VERMONT TRAIL RIDE

In the years 1809-1811, Consul William Jarvis, U. S. diplomatic representative to Lisbon, shipped to this country the royal Spanish and Portuguese flocks of Merino sheep, over 9,000 in all, which he was able to acquire because of the fall of these monarchies. Many were sold to livestock breeders throughout the country, but the main flock went to Consul Jarvis' farms at Weathersfield Bow, Vermont. Due to his efforts and influence Windsor County, of which Woodstock is the county seat, became the leading pure-bred sheep area in the United States. The slopes and ridges of the surrounding Green Mountains were cleared and covered with houses, barns, sheep pastures, stone walls and roads. As time went by and western ranges became available, the farms were abandoned and only the best of the houses preserved by summer people. The roads leading to them remained, however, forming a network of available bridle paths probably unmatched anywhere in the world.

Under the guidance of the Green Mountain Horse Association these old roads have been cleared and developed. The cool climate and absence of flies makes the section particularly suitable for summer riding. This summer the Association initiated a Combined Training Unit under General John Tupper Cole and a Pony Club Clinic under the Upper Valley Pony Club. It also has continued its rides of long standing, the Foliage Ride, the Pleasure Ride (50 miles) and the 100 Mile Ride, the oldest event of its kind in the country. In the latter, held the last three days in August, there were 77 entries. The riders ranged in age from 13 to past 75; the horses included Thoroughbreds, half-breds, Morgans, Arabs, ponies, American Saddle Horses and a Lippizzaner; and there were many types of saddles, bridles and riding clothes.

One hundred Pleasure Riders set forth from the Association's stables in South Woodstock while the 100 Milers were based at Ferguson's Stables in Woodstock. Each day at 5 A. M. the doors of the latter were opened so that contestants could feed their horses. On the first two days, starting at 6:30, they were required to make two separate circuits over the Vermont hills of 40 miles each in not more than 7 hours. On the third day they accomplished a third circuit of 20 miles in 3 hours, a somewhat faster pace. Along the way were stops for water, sandwiches and veterinary examinations. Seventy-two finished the 100 miles, many of them with penalty points for time, lameness, sore backs, interfering, and loss of condition. Some were withdrawn for these reasons. The judges' placings of the horses and the special awards to riders will be reported later.

What did it all prove? It brought together a group of horsemen and horsewomen whose fine sportsmanship throughout the Ride was outstanding. It gave them an opportunity to meet each other, to exchange ideas and to see a beautiful countryside. It enabled them to test their own skill and judgment in conditioning, feeding, equipping and riding their horses and ponies over a long and varied terrain and to test the capabilities of their mounts. In the course of it all they had a wonderful time.

Trail rides and pack trips are now held in all sections under widely varying conditions as to country, distance, horses and riders. Either as our principal enthusiasm or as a pleasant adjunct to other forms of equestrian sport, we can and should enjoy them.

"For the Record"

Sir:

As an advocate of Combined Training, I respectfully take exception to some points raised in your editorial of August 16th. For the record, seven phases, and not five, constitute the "Complete Test" (3-Day-Event), five of these on the 2nd day.

If the Thoroughbred has disadvantages in respect to executing this test, they are not likely to be those listed, namely "a low, sweeping way of going, unsuitable for rough country". Anatomically the Thoroughbred has much greater freedom of action, ideally suited to adjust himself better and more rapidly to varying conditions. His natural elasticity enables him to extricate himself out of a tight spot with remarkable alacrity in contrast to his lesser-bred cousins. The maximum height in the Complete Test is laid down as 3' 11", therefore in spite of difficult approaches, the mere ability to jump "heights" does not enter into the picture. The claimed "lack of hock action to jump heights of the blood horse, if justified, would undoubtedly also interfere with his galloping ability.

As for the time-honoured phrase: "The hot and excitable racing temperament,

BREEDING AND Racing

REVIEW OF THE WEEK

Foxcatcher Farms' Home-bred Rose Trellis Scores Upset Victory in the Hopeful Raleigh Burroughs

It seems like a pretty silly thing to do, but Saratoga closed on August 31. Racing returned, two days later, to Belmont where they run five-furlong races around turns instead of on the straightaway because it was decided that people would rather see horses coming at 'em head-on from the left than from the right.

Besides affording glorious weather and excellent sport for its patrons, Saratoga gave the two-year-olds every opportunity to elect a champion - right up to the last day, August 31. That was the day of the Hopeful.

At the Spa, Jimmer, Louis d'Or, Grey Monarch, Wing Jet, Jester and a few others showed indications of quality, but no selection board has pronounced any one of these the best two-year-old extant.

Those who were hopeful that the Hopeful would help clear the air had their hopes dashed.

The longest shot in the race took it and it is quite possible that time may prove him the best of the Saratoga bunch. He'll never lead the stallion list, though. This is not due to his bloodlines, but to circumstances beyond his control.

After Jester was scratched, Jimmer moved into the role of favorite for the Hopeful as he had beaten most of his opponents.

The choice set out, under Hedley Woodhouse, to kill off his field just as he had done in the Grand Union Hotel Stakes; but this wasn't any six-furlong sprint; it was a test for stouter hearts - six and a HALF furlongs.

With a quarter of a mile behind him, Jimmer was in front by three lengths. After he had gone a half he still was three on top. Then his field started coming to him. Rose Trellis and Louis d'Or, which had been battling for second most of the way, starting fighting for first place. Turpitude also got into the act.

At the eighth pole, any one of four horses appeared to have a chance, but in the stretch, Rose Trellis pulled out and was 2 1/2 lengths to the good at the end. Louis d'Or was second, ahead before Jimmer, which held off Turpitude by a length.

The victory was the second for Rose Trellis and his first in a stakes. Valued at $40,075, it put the gelding's earnings at $47,950. The mutuels payoff was $35 for $2.

Rose Trellis (*Heliopolis - Rose Fern, by Fairy Manhurst) has started 7 times and besides his 2 wins, has 2 seconds and 1 third.

Foxcatcher Farms (William duPont, Jr.) owns the colt. Mr. duPont bred him.

R. E. Hanlen is the Foxcatcher trainer. Frank Lovato rode Rose Trellis in the Hopeful.

Saratoga's attempt to find Mr. (or Miss) Two-Year-Old of 1957 wasn't a complete waste of time. Greentree Stable turned loose a youngster named Prank that sage observers branded the hottest thing around and they stopped observing long enough to go to the mutuels window. Prank didn't run in a stakes race, "But wait until he does, and you'll see," the sage observers advise.

The result of the Spinaway (August 26) for two-year-old fillies was even more startling than the denouement of the Hopeful. The favorite, Pocahontas, finished last, and the most-lightly-backed runner was victorious. That was Claiborne Farm's Sequoia.

The return on a two-dollar investment in that race amounted to $58.30. Claiborne Farm collected $32,560.

The footing for the Spinaway was sloppy, and presumably Pocahontas didn't like it.

Sequoia was not finicky. Under Robert Ussery, she stayed fairly close to the pace for the first half mile then moved up to take the lead at the eighth pole and drew out to win over Armorial by a length and one-half. Bridgework was third and Locust Time, fourth.

Sequoia, by *Princequillo - The Squaw II, by *Sickle, was registering her third win and first in a stakes. She has started 6 times. Her earnings add up to $39,090.

King Ranch's Here and There hit the high spot of her racing experience when she won the Alabama on August 28 and met a tragic death the next day. Brought out of a stable fire to safety, she tore away from her rescuer and plunged back into the flames. She was the only casualty of the blaze.

Coming off a dead-heat with Teleran in an allowance race at one mile, Here and There was given little consideration by the punters for the 1 1/4 - mile Alabama. When Fred Caposella announced "It is now post time," the figures on the board showed that a dollar on the filly would bring you $16.35.

For the first half mile, the prediction of the tote seemed correct. Here and There was loitering in next to last place. Then she began to move up. She was sixth at the end of a mile and third by two heads at the eighth pole. She drew out and won over Snow White by three lengths, back, and it was two more to Magic Forest.

Miss Blue Jay, the choice, was in front at the mile, but tired badly.

The $20,450 she won put Here and There's 1957 earnings at $39,102. She won 3 races, was second 4 times and third once.

The loss of this fine filly was particularly saddening to Trainer Max Hirsch and the Kleberg family as she was by Middleground, which won the Derby and Belmont for the stable. Her dam was Whirlaway's daughter, Scattered.

Eldon Nelson had the mount in the Alabama.

Willie Lester drove E. Seinfeld's Admiral Vee to victory in the 14-furlong

Steeplechasing at Saratoga

John E. Cooper

In one of the most exciting steeplechases in recent years, Montpelier's Shipboard came from behind to nip Mrs. M. G. Walsh's Independence a stride short of the wire, and win by a neck. Carrying top weight of 161 lbs., Shipboard received a million dollar ride from Albert Foot to garner top honors in the $20,000 added Saratoga Steeplechase Handicap. Meeting the last fence three lengths behind his rival, Foot rode with frenzied abandon and perseverance where a lesser rider might have settled for second place.

The Saratoga Steeplechase was an interesting race all the way. Mrs. Ogden Phipps' Ancestor, with 157 lbs., five more than he carried to victory in the Beverwyck here two weeks ago, went out to set the pace in this long about two and a half mile 'chase, and while he jumped well, his style was just a shade off what might be termed brilliant. Under judicious rating from Paddy Smithwick, he maintained that position for more than two laps of the course, but his opposition never let that advantage get to be more than two or three lengths. Closest to him for about two miles was Independence under 147 lbs., ridden by young Tommy Walsh. Going down the far side for the final turn, Walsh ranged up to challenge the pacemaker. Running on almost equal terms, he caused quite a few hearts to flutter, for Independence, despite two good wins at the meeting, lacks the flawless precision of Ancestor, nonetheless the brother of Bold Ruler put in a few bad ones, and then went into a slight lead over Ancestor rounding the final turn. Meanwhile, Foot on the eventual winner, was using all the skill born of his many years of riding, to unleash the power of Shipboard. Midway around the turn, the well made son of Battleship appeared to shake his head as if he knew what was expected, lengthened his stride, and then slowly but surely began to overhaul Independence and Ancestor. He got to Ancestor approaching the final fence. Taking this one in stride, he landed well, and scarcely had his feet on the ground before the mighty Foot went to work again. It seemed that the wire would come too soon, despite a valiant effort by Shipboard, but Independence seemed to hang ever so slightly a few yards short of the wire, and at this point the job was done for the blue and old rose silks of Mrs. Marion du Pont Scott. Ancestor finished third about ten lengths behind the leaders. After being headed going to the last fence, he landed over this off stride, and dropped out as a contender a few strides later. It was another fifteen lengths back to Morpheus, with Eastcor and Rythminhim completing the field.

Time for the race was 5:12 1/5, which because of the changes in the course this year, makes a comparison with the old record little difficult. However, in 1954 King Commander won this race in 5:00 2/5 at a time when he was at his top form. Because of the extension of the turns with aluminum railing in 1957, and considering that the two and a half distance calls for five turns in the course, it is reasonable to take off about 8 seconds in contrast to the former distance, which would make this year's Saratoga Steeplechase a pretty fast one. In any event, it was as good or better a performance for Shipboard than any he has run in his career.

In the winners circle following the race, Watson Pomeroy, a former gentleman rider, and currently the Republican Representative in the Assembly, presented the St. Albans Cup to trainer Raymond G. Woolfe in the absence of Mrs. Scott. From glancing at the record it seems that Ray Woolfe has a particular affinity for the Saratoga Steeplechase. He won it on Cottesmore in 1939 as "Mr." Woolfe. Nine years later he saddled Lowry Watkins Tourist List, the winner that year. Two years afterward he gave the leg up to young Raymie Woolfe, a sixteen-year-old at the time, who piloted Hampton Roads to a sparkling victory. Then in 1955 Ray Woolfe took what now appears to be a stranglehold, when he tightened the girth on Shipboard, who as a five-year-old, carried 160 lbs. to a convincing score. Last year, he came off with the biggest surprise of the meeting, Mighty Mo hadn't been to the races yet in 1956, and the testing Saratoga Steeplechase was his first start. When the red board went up, Mighty Mo's number was in the first slot. It seems a little monotonous?

The fourth week of steeplechasing opened with a win for Eugene Dixon, Jr.'s My Last Try, a three-year-old, which had showed some nice races over hurdles previously. In the Golden Meadow at a mile and five eighths, and in his age group, Jimmy Hobales had no trouble at all to cross the wire six lengths to the fore of his field. C. Mahlon Kline's Gridiron led for most of the way and was best of the others to finish in the runner-up position, a length and a half in front of Punctuality.

Mrs. H. T. McKnight's Darubini, winner of the Monmouth end of the National Maiden Stakes, proved best of his field on Tuesday in The Weldship at the mile and three quarter distance over hurdles. Ridden by Paddy Smithwick, he took the lead when Lucky Trine gave way, then had no serious trouble from Guilford Dudley, Jr.'s Navy Fighter in the stretch run. Super Jet 2nd and Lucky Trine completed the field in the order named. Two casualties marked this race when Get Lost, from Llangollen Farm, broke a leg midway through the race for no clearly apparent reason. Rounding into the stretch Patrick Begorra jumped the last hurdle all right, but seemed to land off balance, throwing his rider into the hedge.

Perhaps the nicest jumper to arrive on these shores from abroad in some years made his debut on Wednesday. This was John McShain's Ballybrittas, a four-year-old Irish bred by Rockefeller out of Honey Sugar. Running with a very mediocre field, his first tour of the course was notable for the way that his rider, Jimmy Murphy restrained him. Rounding into the far side the last time with three quarters of a mile to go, it was just a case of how far. When Murphy gave him a bit of rein, the horse moved to the lead quickly, and from that point on, his opposition gave the impression of breaking down in the running, individually and collectively. What was perhaps even more impressive was the way Ballybrittas jumped. Taking them in his stride, he

Stakes Review

Raleigh Burroughs

The Sanford Stakes is the race in which Upset defeated Man o'War. There was a surprise in the '57 renewal, but it wasn't quite so stunning as the one in 1919, as every colt in the race had taken his bumps before August 23, the date of the Sanford.

The Clubhouse Turn

YOUR TWO DOLLARS

Have you ever wondered what happened to the two dollars you lost on a horse last winter at Hialeah?

Well, most of it - $1.68 1/2 - was paid to somebody who held a ticket on the horse that did win. The track kept 14 cents to help pay the operating expenses. But you will be interested most in what the State of Florida did with the 17 1/2 cents it received in taxes from your two dollar bet.

Eleven and one-half cents of what you lost on that horse has been or is being used to help the old folks of Florida; for housing, food, and other necessities of life for residents over 65 years. And your other six cents, divided equally among the counties of Florida, with 9/100ths of a cent to each, is paying for everything from a tuba to a veterinarian.

Of the 67 counties, 61 used all or part of your money for schools. In five it all went to the public education system. In a sixth, the entire amount was given to the teachers as a bonus. Still a seventh uses revenue from the tacks to help pay the salary of a junior college president. In six other local units, all of your racing tax was spent for highways and bridges. Fifty-five other Florida counties used a portion for the same purpose.

It probably never crossed your mind, as you watched that race at Hialeah, that you were helping pay for public health and hospitals all over Florida. Twenty-one counties appropriate part of their pari-mutuel money for county health units. Six counties already have built hospitals, with the assistance of racing funds.

The tuba and the veterinarian? Oh, yes! Three Florida counties spend part of their racing funds - your contribution included - for high school band instruments and uniforms. Another appropriates money from the same source to pay the salary of a county veterinarian.

There are many other special uses, including payment for 4-H Club and home demonstration work, harbor improvements, operation of a marine laboratory, building of a football stadium, construction of a swimming pool, forest fire control, the maintenance of a county library and farmers' curb market, purchase of an airplane hangar, pest control, canals and drainage, and a veterans' service fund.

Your share, it happens, was only 17 1/2 cents (or was it?). Multiplied by the millions who attend Florida racing every winter, however, you can see that pari-mutuels are an important source of tax revenue. In fact, only gasoline, beverages, the sales tax and the sale of auto tags produce more money for the State. This year, Florida received almost 25 million from pari-mutuels, and each county's share amounted to $175,000.

DAINGERFIELD PRESIDENT OF SNARO

At the annual Meeting of the Society of North American Racing Officials in Chicago on June 2nd, Keene Daingerfield, formerly secretary and treasurer, was elected president, succeeding Mathias ("Ty") Shea. Horace Wade was elected vice-president and Louis Eilken secretary-treasurer.

QUEEN IS LEADING OWNER

Following two successes at the Royal Ascot Meeting, which is held from Monday till Friday, the Queen had a further couple of winners at the Ascot Heath Meeting on the Saturday. These brought her total for the year up to fifteen victories worth a total of over $110,000, and places her well clear of Crepello's owner Sir Victor Sassoon in the list of winning owners for the present season.

CREVOLIN'S GOOD JUVENILE

Bought at the October Yearling Sales for $13,500, Andy Crevolin's Court of Kings won the six furlongs John O'Gaunt Stakes at Manchester to record his first success. Taking the lead a furlong out, he quickly mastered the rest of the field to score by 1 1/2 lengths in 1.12.

A bay colt by Court Martial out of King's Cross, Court of Kings is an own-brother to the Two Thousand Guineas runner-up King's Bench, now doing well at stud.

AMERICAN PARTNERS BUY STUD

Hollywood directors Allen and Broccoli are now resident in England where they are taking an ever-increasing interest in racing and breeding, and have purchased the renowned Derisley Wood Stud at Newmarket.

Among the stallions that Allen will be using is the American-bred Hook Money, a son of *Bernborough tracing to *La Troienne, who raced for the late Robert S. Clark, for he has bought two shares in the syndicate of this horse.

ANOTHER *MY BABU WINNER

IN ENGLAND

American Mrs. Anne Bullitt Biddle won the valuable Salford Borough Handicap Stakes at Manchester over six furlongs with her good *My Babu four-year-old colt Milesian, who had two lengths to spare at the post, but the official verdict gives little indication of the ease of his win.

As a two-year-old Milesian had won the Imperial Produce Stakes, one of Britain's leading juvenile events, and had another success last year. He is out of the Coup de Lyon mare Oatflake.

*My Babu has been having a most successful season in England, his winners including both the English and Irish Lincolnshire Handicaps.

STRASSBURGER WINS

BRITAIN'S RICHEST RACE

Montaval (Norseman-Ballynash, by *Nasrullah), bred and owned by American Ralph Beaver Strassburger whose bloodstock operations are carried on in France, won the King George VI and Queen Elizabeth Stakes, Britain's richest race at Ascot, July 20th. Montaval, who finished second to Lavandin in the Epsom Derby last year, was an outsider at 20-1.

QUEEN'S STABLE LEADS

Queen Elizabeth II became Britain's leading winning owner when her three-year-old filly Almeria won the Bentinck Stakes at Goodwood, England on July 30th.

TRAINERS AT KEENELAND

TOM FOOL'S FIRST

First stakes winner in Tom Fool's first crop to come to the races, is George D. Widener's Jester, who recently won the 45th running of the National Stallion Stakes at Belmont Park.

MILLION DOLLAR DAY

On June 8th, the day of the running of the Queen's Plate at Woodbine, Canada recorded its first million dollar day when the 26,705 people filing through the turnstiles bet $1,038,234. Attendance at the meeting was up ten per cent.

was made the favorite - and he's still a maiden.

Mrs. W. T. Kissel's Louis d'Or, which had been third in the Tremont, Flash and Grand Union Hotel, was the winner of this one. He scored by two lengths over Dead-eye Dick, with Wing Jet and Counter Spy following as listed.

Louis d'Or earned $12,600 and that gives him total winnings of $26,230.

R. Sterling steered him to victory.

Bred by W. G. Loew, Louis d'Or is by Centime, from the *Shannon II mare, Irish Magpie. Centime stands at The Jockey Club's Lookover Stallion Station, at Avon, N. Y.

During its 24-day meeting, Saratoga does everything a track can do to sort out the two-year-olds, and the Special (August 12) often helps a bit. For this year's renewal, only four showed up, and it's hard to say just where they'll be when the final tally is made.

Mr. E. P. Taylor's Grey Monarch was the victor by three-quarters of a length over the favored Jester. Turpitude was third and Dark Tale, fourth.

The Special is a winner-take-all affair and "all" amounted to $13,800. That gives him $15,700 in earnings.

Grey Monarch had raced twice before, at Woodbine and Fort Erie, and finished first on both occasions. He was placed third after his Fort Erie race for attempting to occupy more than his allotted share of the course.

The gray colt was bred in England, by Dr. F. A. Smorflitt.

Horatio Luro trains him. Jimmy Nichols had the mount.

Ricci Tavi, after disappointing in the Whitney Handicap, made amends in the American Legion six days later (on August 16). The only trouble was that most of the patrons who wagered on him in the Whitney decided Ricci Tavi didn't like the track, and he had to dig up a new bunch of supporters for the American Legion. These profited at the rate of $9 for each buck invested.

The American Legion Handicap is not a long race - seven furlongs - but this renewal was very wide - 15 horses.

There was some pushing and shoving. Eldon Nelson drove Ricci Tavi around the outside, kept out of trouble and had plenty of steam left for the stretch run. He beat Nan's Mink a length. That one finished 3 1/2 before Nashville, and Motor Line was fourth. The stewards moved Nashville back to fourth and Motor Line up to third in the official placings, after Contreras, on Motor Line, claimed a foul.

The race, worth $17,750, put Ricci Tavi at $50,200 for 1957. He has 4 wins (including the Mr. Fitz Handicap) 2 seconds and 1 third.

The property of Christiana Stable (Mr.

Del Mar Yearling Sales

The 17th California Breeder's Sale, conducted by the Fasig-Tipton Co., of New York brought out some very gratifying bids, although the average was down from last year. This year's average was $5,642, while the 1956 sale showed a figure of $6,183.

Desi Arnaz, TV producer and entertainer, who with his wife Lucille Ball, races under the Nom de Course "Desilu Stable", was the high bidder for the first session. The Eucalyptus Hill Farm consigned chestnut colt by *Khaled-Picardy Rose, by Rosemont was knocked down to Mr. Arnaz for $25,000.

The high bid of the second session was made by trainer Reggie Cornell, acting for an eastern buyer. Mr. Cornell went to $28,000 for the bay colt by Roman-*Figina, by Nearco, consigned by Laguna Seca-Old Westport Place.

The sales were held in the County Fair Grounds' Bing Crosby Hall and brought out many notables from the entertainment world as well as prominent members of the nation's Thoroughbred industry. M.R.

News from the STUDS

KENTUCKY

SWOON NAMED "MARE OF YEAR"

E. Gay Drake's Swoon, dam of Dogoon and Swoon's Son, was named "Brood Mare of the Year" for 1956 by the Kentucky Thoroughbred Breeders Association. Mr. Drake, owner of Mineola Farm, Lexington, was to be awarded a plaque at the annual Derby Trainers' Dinner on the evening of the Derby Trial.

A home-bred 15-year-old daughter of Sweep Like - Sadie Greenock, by Greenock, Swoon won five races and $11,425 for Mr. Drake at three and four.

Her six foals to race include the Amphitheatre gelding Vaparena, captor of five races and $5,970 from three through six; the Alabama filly Amabala, who took five events and $14,630 in two seasons; the Amphitheatre filly Dottie Dear, who scored in seven contests and earned $20,820 during three campaigns; the The Doge colt Dogoon, who has annexed the Lads and Lassies and Detroit Governor's Stakes, George Woolf Memorial, Hawthorne Juvenile and Chicago Handicaps, 13 other appearances and $158,545.50; the The Doge colt Swoon's Son, who has acquired the Arlington and Washington Park Futurities, Woolf and Warren Wright Memorials, Bashford Manor, Prairie State, Domino and Chicagoan Stakes, Arlington Classic, American Derby, Clark Handicap and $553,755; and the Challenge Me filly Swoon's Dot, who showed to collect $350 as a two-year-old last season.

Dogoon and Swoon's Son, Swoon's two stakes winners, are her only foals that Mr. Drake did not sell at the Keeneland Sales as yearlings. He kept these two sons of The Doge for his own racing stable. Now five and four years old, respectively, the full brothers are currently in training at Churchill Downs.

Swoon now has a yearling filly by *Bernborough. Carrying a late foal by The Doge, she is booked back to the sire of Dogoon and Swoon's Son. F. T. P.

*PRINCEQUILLO'S DOUBLE

Sons of *Princequillo, who stands at A. B. Hancock's Claiborne Farm, Paris, won $100,000 races on both coasts on July 13; and ran one-two in one of them.

In the Monmouth Handicap at Monmouth Park, Dedicate and Third Brother, both by *Princequillo, finished first and second, 3 1/4 lengths apart.

And in the Hollywood Gold Cup at Hollywood Park, the Claiborne - bred three-year-old Round Table, also by *Princequillo, walloped older horses and equaled Swaps' track record. F. T. P.

DISCARDS INTO OUTER SPACE

Columnist Charles Hatton comments, "Everybody makes mistakes in the inexact science of bloodstock production. Ambassador J. H. Whitney could feel a twinge of regret every time Mrs. Gerard Smith's Outer Space wins, but he is gracious enough to be glad. You see, he bred Swing and Sway, and exiled him. But not before he sired Saggy, whom he also sold in utero as we recall. Again, Whitney bred Devil Diver. And yet again, Devil Diver was banished from Greentree. Now comes Outer Space who is by Saggy out of a Devil Diver mare, to thwart the ambitions of his own fillies.

Mr. and Mrs. George Zauderer and Dan-G. Van Clief (center) of the Nydrie Stud, Esmont, Va., owners and breeder of Poly -Hi, champion 2-year-old filly of this season. The Nydrie consignment at the Saratoga Sales averaged $25,160 for 15 yearlings. (Morgan Photo)

THE PIMPERNEL TO STAND IN FLORIDA

Charles Friedfertig has completed arrangements with Joseph M. O'Farrell, General Manager of the Ocala Stud Farms, Inc., to stand his brilliant speed horse, The Pimpernel at their Florida Farm next season. The stallion arrived at the farm on Thursday Morning, June 6th.

The Pimpernel, a well-conformed son of Pavot-Chalara, by *Challenger II holds the World's record down the Widener Chute at Belmont - 4 1/2 furlongs in 49 4/5 seconds.

The Pimpernel's dam, Chalara, was a winner of 8 races at 2, and also at 4 and 5, including 6 furlongs in 1:11 4/5. She is a half-sister to the stakes winner Savage Beauty (dam of the stakes winner Femme Fatale); to the handicapper and sire Aethelwold; to Little Sphinx (dam of the stakes winners Captor, Equichall and the stakes placed Noors Image and Roman Secret); and to 6 other winners.

Chalara's dam (The Pimpernel's second dam) was the leading 2-year-old filly of her year and proved an excellent producer. She is half-sister to the good stakes winner Deduce and the 20-race victor Zaidee.

The number of opportunities for a 2-year-old to start in the early part of the season in Florida - both in home-bred events and open races - makes it prudent for Florida breeders to breed for early speed. The Pimpernel should satisfy that demand, for both his racing performance and his breeding point to quick developing horses. In addition his conformation is such that he should sire a good type individual.

The Pimpernel entered the stud in New Jersey in 1955 and his first crop will race in 1958.

Atlantic City

Mrs. Connie Ring's Market Basket galloped off with the mile-and-a-sixteenth Pageant Stakes over Atlantic City's grass course on August 17.

Campaigning in the West, the three-year-old filly had won the Santa Susana and Goose Girl Stakes and the Hollywood Oaks. She was an 11-to-1 shot in the Pageant, but ran like a hot choice.

Getting the lead before the race had gone more than halfway, she continued to extend her margin until she passed under the wire 3 1/2 lengths before Pink Velvet. Light 'n Lovely, the favorite, was third and Teleran, fourth.

Earning $18,712.50 for her effort, Market Basket brought 1957 total to $73,232.50.

The filly is by *Radiotherapy-Sybil, by *Beau Pere. The late George Ring, husband of the owner, bred Market Basket.

J. M. Phillips trains her. R. J. Martin rode in the Pageant.

The Ventnor Turf Handicap went to Mrs. J. R. H. Thuron's Ben Lomond. He won the grass race at 1 1/16 miles by a head over the favorite, Vertex. In third place was Anxious Moment, and Inswept was fourth.

The winner carried 116 pounds to 122 on the runner-up.

Ben Lomond was making his seventh start of the year, and registering his second win. He brought in $18,956.25. That makes his 1957 money score $22,906.25. The three-year-old colt is by Alycidon-Phaetonia, by Nearco. He was bred in England by J. A. Dewar.

Jim Ryan trains him. Nick Shuk was aboard for the Ventnor.

Short Takes of Late Stakes

No Bumps registered in the La Jolla Handicap at Del Mar on August 10. Sally Lee took the Del Mar Debutante, August 17. Royal Rasher scored in the Del Mar Oaks on August 21.

Begin With PRO-VI-MIN

For weanlings, it's especially important to feed them in a way that will start them on the track of good health. The best way to accomplish this is to add protein to their daily rations. Protein guarantees the weanling will fully utilize all his feed and at the same time benefit from the structural elements found in powerful protein. Outstanding source of protein is PRO-VI-MIN. Begin with PRO-VI-MIN and you begin with the finest.

PRO-VI-MIN — Powerful protein product fortified with vital vitamins and necessary minerals. For weanlings, yearlings and all growing horses.

WINN — Companion protein product. More concentrated. For broodmares, stallions, and all horses in training.

HUNTING

Hound Show Of The Virginia Foxhound Club

Blessed with a cool day and the incomparable setting of Mrs. Marion duPont Scott's Montpelier estate, which includes a ring shaded by giant walnut trees, the eleventh annual show of American foxhounds of the Virginia Foxhound Club (the third since its post-war revival) gathered together an array of hounds on August 24th which in quality were in every way comparable (and often identical) with the best that will be seen later at Bryn Mawr. Fifteen packs were represented of which nine were from Virginia. The Potomac, the Foxcatcher and Mr. Hubbard's Kent County Hounds came from Maryland, the Essex from New Jersey and the Middlebury and the Litchfield County from Connecticut. Because of illness Mason Houghland was unable to leave Nashville, Tennessee, so as to judge with Jack Carpenter of Esmont, Va. His place was taken by Wilbur Hubbard, who has officiated at this show in the past, except in classes in which his own hounds were exhibited.

Six hunts were eligible for the four classes restricted to packs which have not shown at Bryn Mawr since 1953, the Fairfax, Keswick, Old Dominion, Rapidan, Warrenton and Mr. Hubbard's. Two of these were won by Fairfax, one by Warrenton and one by Keswick. Of the 38 ribbons awarded in the 17 open classes, Foxcatcher took home a second, Deep Run and Middleburg 2 thirds each and Warrenton and Litchfield 1 third each. All the first ribbons went to the Orange County, the Essex and the Potomac. The Orange County, which brought by far the largest number of hounds - 25 not including the pack class - accounted for 9 firsts and the Essex (which only brought 6 hounds) and the Potomac for 4 each. Potomac won the pack class and The Chronicle Challenge Cup for the best stallion foxhound shown with three of his get. Orange County won the classes for unentered dogs and bitches, the former with Brigand (by Essex Federal '50 out of O.C.H. Birdie '54) who went on to win Champion Dog Hound and Champion American Foxhound, beating the Champion bitch and last year's Bryn Mawr Champion Foxhound Essex Frolic '54 - a decision which occasioned considerable debate inside the ring as well as out of it.

Fletcher Harper, Chairman of the Virginia Foxhound Club, George Cole Scott its Secretary-Treasurer and Mrs. Scott are all to be congratulated on the success of the show.

THE CHRONICLE Chronicle Cover

Edwin Henry Landseer was the third and youngest son of John Landseer, engraver to King William IV of England. He was born in London on March 7, 1802 and at a very early age displayed the talents which were to make him the most popular animal painter of his own or any other time. His father held the opinion that an ordinary course of education, if not harmful to an artist, was at least unnecessary, so that the boy was encouraged to draw and paint with little or no interference from school masters. He did become a student at the Royal Academy Schools in 1816, however. In 1817 he was introduced to the artist Benjamin Haydon who encouraged him to study anatomy. One of his first efforts in this direction was to dissect a lion which had died in one of the menageries. His talent was very soon recognized and he was elected an Associate of the Royal Academy at the minimum age of 24.

Landseer's work shows such a high degree of finish and is so complete in every detail that one would suppose it to be the product of long and laborious effort. Actually, the opposite was the case. Lord Ossulston (later Earl of Tankerville), one of the artist's most intimate friends, writes: "It was most interesting to watch his unerring hand and eye guiding the brush with faultless precision, from the broadest to the minutest touches; for though dashed in with marvellous rapidity they were never retouched. I frequently had opportunities of watching his endless resources in painting. In subsequent years we always took our autumn tour in the Highlands together, and the many charms of our life at Ardverikie, on Loch Laggan, made it one of our most favourite resorts. It was here that I enjoyed perhaps the greatest treat of all in seeing his masterly mode of handling his great paintings, and watching the beginning of those inimitable frescoes with which he decorated the walls of the lodge in black and red chalk. The dash and decision with which his touches were put in was really astonishing; they seemed quite at haphazard, but it was the faultless hand of the master. Those frescoes were merely intended to cover the naked plaster walls, but they became the still greater originals of some of his most famous pictures. Two of those lately sold, viz., 'The Stag at Bay', and 'None but the Brave Deserve the Fair', have fetched fabulous prices.

"Landseer would test his work by asking the opinion of the uninitiated. He would ask a servant as to the likeness of a portrait of his master in preference to the wife or sister. As he was sketching in the fresco of 'The Stag at Bay', I was watching him; he first sketched in with a few strokes the head and antlers, and turning to me said, 'Ossulston, what is this stag doing?' 'Why standing at bay, of course.' 'That will do'. So he went on."

Gilbert Mather To Kenneth Caswell

Thanksgiving Day 1938

The Foxhunter was growing old
Too old, he thought, to hunt.
Stiffly he rose from off his bed
With many a groan and grunt.

"My day is past", lamented he
"My step has lost its spring!
Oh Grave where is thy victory?
Oh Death where is thy sting?"

"And yet the hounds are going out,
The meet's not far away.
By God!", he said,
"I'll hunt again
If it's my dying day!"

So mounted on his tested steed
He reached the covert side,
At least he'd see them find their Fox
Though he'd no further ride!

 "Eleu-in!" the Huntsman cried,
 And joyously the hounds
 Rushed headlong into covert
 With eager leaps and bounds!

A whimper in the thicket
 A crash, a mighty bay,
 The whipper-in has raised his cap
 It's "TALLY HO! AWAY - Y - Y!"

Forgotten then the aches and pains,
 Forgotten too the gout!
 Our Sportsman gathers up his reins
 And lets his hunter out.

The pack, upon a breast high scent,
 Is flying o'er the hill.
 The field is jamming after them
 With never thought of spill.

And foremost in that thrusting throng
 Rides now our sportsman old,
 His eye is keen
 His seat is firm
 His heart is strong and bold!

O'er chicken coop and barway stiff
 No thought of turning back,
 He flies the brook,
 He tops the hill,
 And gains upon the pack.

Across Pocopson's rolling heights
 The stout fox leads the van.
 Now let him stay who has the heart,
 And let him lead who can!

Full many a horse is short of wind
 Across those rolling downs
 But still our gallant veteran
 Rides just behind the hounds!

One hour and forty minutes!
 At last they mark to earth.
 Our Sportsman reins his laboring mount
 And eases up the girth.

And, as the Huntsman sounds his horn
 And cheers the milling pack,
 Old Kenneth vows that life this day
 No happiness can lack!

He joins the field who homeward ride
 A smile upon each face
 They pat each other on the back
 "We surely went the pace!"

His heart is young,
 His blood is warm,
 No thought of cough or cold;
 Which proves this truth:
 "NO SPORTSMAN TRUE
 NEED FEAR THAT HE GROWS OLD!"

Kenneth Caswell To Gilbert Mather

November 14th, 1939

Oh why! Oh why! must one get old
 Instead of being rider bold?
 Who cares for naught but a fast pace
 And a good horse to ride his race.

Who takes it for a royal lark
 When meet's at six, and home at dark
 Enormous meals, with nothing wasted
 Are "et, yet never bi-carb tasted.

Can work all day and dance all night
 And yet the next day - feels all right.
 Of course in days when not so old
 One had the grippe, one had a cold.

But did these linger on for weeks
 With coated tongue and sunken cheeks?
 One felt quite rotten, yes of course
 What was the cure - Out on a horse.

A ride to hounds makes young blood flow
 And grippe or cold by force must go.

THE CHRONICLE

But my old friend - don't make this play
 For you'll relapse without delay.

And so with one great heartfelt sigh
 I say again - Oh why! Oh why!

Dear Gilbert:

I congratulate you on having another 10 or 12 years before being put in the unfortunate category pictured above.

German Intervarsity Combined Training Championship

R. Schlosser

Previous Inter-varsity Championships having been held in Tuebingen, Bonn, Hamburg, Goettingen and Munster, it was Munich's turn this year to organize this annual event. With very few exceptions practically all West German universities and polytechnic schools sent teams. There were a large number of new faces and names although those universities which had in the past played a leading part again were among the big winners.

The show was again held as a Combined Training Competition, i.e. dressage test, cross-country phase and show jumping with additional dressage and jumping competitions for the best riders in the various competitions. Horses were provided by the Munich University Riding School, the Mounted Police and various private stables.

After the dressage competition the teams of Munich University, Munich Polytechnic and the Agricultural College of Hohenheim were in front. Individual winners were two riders from Munich.

For the second day Major Andreae, before the war one of the leading riders of the Hannover Cavalry School and now prominent as a course designer, had built up rather a stiff course on the grounds of the beautiful Leutstetten Castle. The difficulties of the course were increased by rain and fog, but the riders overcame them remarkably well. The only draw-back was that some of the horses had not much experience in cross-country work.

After the second day the team of Munich University still was leading, whereas the Munich Polytechnic had moved down a step, the team of Giessen University being in second place.

For the final decision in the stadium jumping competition on the last day, a Sunday, a surprising number of spectators turned up. This class-A jumping competition was judged on style and jumping faults. The riders did not know their mounts beforehand and had only five minutes time before each event in which to get acquainted with their horses. Also some of the horses were by no means easy to handle.

Winning team was Munich University followed by Giessen, the Munich Polytechnic and Hamburg University. Individual winner was Herr Pfeuffer from the Nuremberg College of Economics, second Herr Dirkenhofer of Tuebingen University and third Herr Frerking (Giessen).

Brookville Junior

The second Brookville Junior Show was a much larger edition of the first one. Lack of activity on Long Island all summer seemed to account for the greater interest in showing.

Wendy Plumb, whose brother Michael is in Colorado Springs at the tryouts, took over his former show horse, Tedspin, and performed very successfully to gain the hunter title. Russell Corey, easily one of the happiest children showing, rode his mother's, Mrs. A. L. Corey, Jr.'s, Carmel to the reserve spot after winning the junior Corinthian.

A comparative newcomer to the show ring accounted for top honors in the very large jumper division when Louis Janakowski rode Harry Deleyer's Snowman to the title by a resounding margin. In the reserve spot was Thomas School's Trader Horn, ridden by Linda Thomas to edge out Glen Head Stables' Black Fox ridden by Hugh Hayes.

The pony title was a comparatively easy victory for Sandy Rice's Collee Og, with 2 firsts and a second in three classes. Stake winner, Cynthia Phipps' owner-ridden Pebble was reserve.

Horsemanship champion was Ralph Johnson while Nancy Rice gained the runner-up position. Tanbark Lancaster's Junior Horse Show, one of six in the Central Pennsylvania Junior Horse Show Association circuit, drew an entry list of more than 60 horses and ponies. Points were given in 23 of the 27 classes toward championships to be awarded at the Pennsylvania National Horse Show, Oct. 19-26.

Riders for Derbydown stables, including Susan Worrall, Beverly Ritter and Betsy Bailey, ran off with five blue ribbons among them. Susan, riding St. Nick, won both the open jumper class and the Knockdown and Out, while Beverly, aboard Redwood, won hunter seat equitation and working hunter over the outside course. Betsy, riding Diana Major, won first in hunter hacks.

Jeannie Mosser, with her famous small pony Toby, was victorious in both events for hunter ponies under 13 hands, while Ruby Zemo with The Duchess, won both events for hunter ponies 13 to 14.2 hands.

The young riders did excellently in the two jumping events. In the open class several went clean, and required jump-offs for the decision. In the knockdown and out, five horses completed the course, and jumped off. M. L. S.

HORSE SHOWS

Intercourse

If anyone had wanted to get a really good look at the famed Amish and other "plain folk" who inhabit the eastern section of Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, they would have had a golden opportunity at the Intercourse Horse Show.

At least half of the audience of about 1700 people were "plain folk", many were of Amish, who usually eschew any type of entertainment. But since the only approved type of transportation for Amish is by horse-drawn vehicle, it was only natural that they should be drawn to the spot where their fourfooted friends were on exhibition. In the crowd were many barefooted little Amish boys, wearing their broad brimmed hats, long sleeved shirts and suspended trousers.

The village of Intercourse is situated just a few miles from the equally small town of Bird-in-Hand, a real place which formed the locale for the Broadway musical, "Plain and Fancy". Four years ago some of the residents (obviously not Amish) began to publicize the town by observing an annual "Dutch" jubilee in the town, which this year included a donkey baseball game, a tour of 50 Pennsylvania Dutch kitchens where foods could be sampled, and a chicken barbecue along with the Horse Show.

More than 110 horses and ponies were entered, making it the largest show ever held there. Bob Denault's Ferris Wheel won two of the jumper classes, the warm-up and sweepstakes.

Young Jerry Frankhouser, twelve, who's been giving the open jumper riders a run for their money for the past couple of years, had a vociferous treble cheering section, since the show was in his own bailiwick - he lives about four miles away at Gordonville. Jerry placed second and third in the sweepstakes with Town Talk and Winnipeg, after a jump-off with Ferris Wheel. A bearded Amishman, Buck Hulyard, won the balloon race. M. L. S.

Bath County

The fact that an enormous amount of time and effort had been put into the Hot Springs horse show was plainly evident, even if one only looked at the grounds; neat piles of extra split rails and barbershop poles lay waiting on the velvety turf; rows of gay flowerpots were ready to lend color to the fences in the open jumper classes; the candy - striped food tent lent a "circusy" air, but the food itself was far better than any found at a circus. The exhibitors soon found that the excellent planning went much further than the grounds themselves. Numerous parties were given for them and the show was run exactly on time and with a minimum of confusion, despite the multitude of entries. As if all this weren't enough to make any show an outstanding success, there seemed to be at least one incident in each division to make it extra special.

It is seldom that a lady is seen riding sidesaddle in a show ring anymore (though the sight is always a welcome one) so consequently Mrs. Louis Werner II had a very enthusiastic crowd behind her in the working hunters under saddle class. Her beautifully mannered Felix was only pinned fourth, but Mrs. Werner came back to try again in the owners up, and out of forty-three entries was given second. The division champion, Shawnees Farm's Journey Proud also received a great deal of applause. Ridden expertly by Miss Elliwod Keith, he put in several brilliant rounds to become the undisputed victor.

A little bay gelding named All Shook Up caused quite a sensation in the jumper classes. Showing that he was all that his name implied, he bounced over the intricate fault and out course twice, carrying his rider Gene Compton to win the two day touch and out high score award. However, All Shook Up could not keep himself together long enough to catch the division champion Hailstorm, who was spectacularly ridden by his owner Wally Holly, and the reserve, Beauty Ray, who is owned by Mrs. Robert Haas.

The conformation hunter champion was the magnificent chestnut Waiting Home, owned and ridden by Miss Peggy Augustus. Reserve to him was Chinquapin Farm's lovely - moving Silverminer. However, probably the best remembered and popular victory in this division was that of Gene Pillion on Mrs. A. C. Randolph's Black Atom in the corinthian class. His trip was one of the most brilliant of the show, and his victory a well deserved one.

Mr. and Mrs. Winston Guest's Cameda repeated his Staunton success and was again pinned champion of the green conformation hunters. The good - looking youngster was champion at both shows last year also. Reserve in this division was another Shawnee Farm entry, Take Command, who was ridden by Garfield Harding.

Among the junior riders, the best remembered moment came in the V.H.S.A. Equitation class when the finalists were asked to cross their stirrups over their horses withers, dismount, change horses, and remount - without stirrups! First up was Mr. Bucky Reynolds, who did a superb job of riding throughout the class, and was the unquestioned victor.

All in all, the Bath County Show seemed to be as successful as a show can be, and spectators and exhibitors alike went home satisfied that they had seen one of the best in the country.

Lakeville

The 1957 Lakeville Rotary Show held at Holley Hill Farm, Salisbury, Connecticut, was a very good show and a definite improvement over the 1956 one. The Lakeville Show is the third stop on the Tri-State 4-Show Circuit and, under the very competent management of Al Lowe, will again rise to the heights of one of the top shows in the northeast.

The splendid efforts on the part of Ted Buell, Executive Secretary of the American Horse Show Association, who turned in his usual fine job as announcer, kept the show moving at a rapid pace and it was a pleasure to find that instead of the show running hours late it was running on time and, in some cases, ahead of time.

Some of the classes were light on entries but the hunter and jumper fields were filled to overflowing with some of the top - notch hunters and jumpers throughout the Empire and Northeast states.

The ring officials, judges, stewards, jump crew and all others concerned with the success of the show turned in a highly commendable job. The Lakeville Show this year lived up to the traditions of the Tri-State 4-Show Circuit by having one of the finest on that circuit. T.B.

Sunnyfield Farm

The pale yellow and white barns nestling amid the gently rolling green hills of Bedord made a perfect setting for the Sunnyfield Farm Fifth Annual Horse Show. The dressage ring was marked off by freshly painted white blocks and had pots of red geraniums at each corner. A little distance away were two carefully planned courses. The shorter course consisting of five jumps, one of which was painted to look like a red brick wall and planted with real flowers, was used for the equitation classes; while the working hunter and jumper classes were held over the larger course which utilized a variety of colored rails and cans, as well as stone walls and chicken coops. In this longer course, tiny evergreens growing on either side marked each jump.

One of the most exciting classes was the A.H.S.A. Medal Class for hunting seat. After the initial round, four riders were chosen to go around again - first over a shortened course of six fences; then, with a change of mounts, over a course of four fences; and finally, without stirrups, over four more fences; with the well - deserving winner being Michael Del Balso.

The many dressage classes were well filled, and this centuries old type of riding, comparatively new to the American horse show scene, is being enthusiastically encouraged by all those at Sunnyfield.

Glenmore Hunt Club

The Staunton horse show's lovely ring-side lake reflected the performances of exhibitors from more than a dozen states this year, and the judges and committee were highly commended for keeping the overflowing classes on schedule. In spite of the flock of out of state horses, however, Virginia exhibitors managed to hold their own.

It almost goes without saying that the pride of Middleburg, Va., J.S. Pettibone's Duke of Paconian, was the conformation champion. Miss Betty Beryl Schenk, who has ridden "The Duke" very successfully this season, was again in the irons, and the pair was once more invincible.

Fairview Farm's Bronze Wing, currently being shown by Bobby Burke, who is also from Middleburg, garnered the tricolor in the working division. Mr. Burke had a second victory in the green conformation division, where he rode Mrs. Winston Guest's Cameda to the championship. This was a repeat performance of Cameda, as he also won the tricolor last year as a 3-year-old.

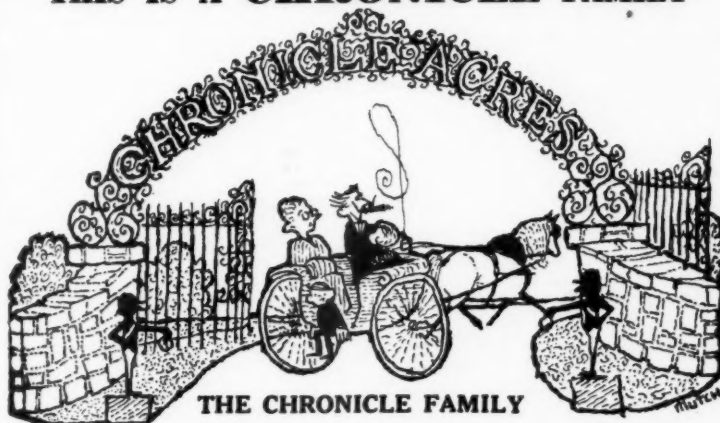

Miss Peggy Augustus came from Cobham, Va. to take the green working championship on her gray four-year-old, The Bellboy.

Virginia horses took the rumble seat in the jumper division, however. Top Miss who is owned by the Ormond Biltmore Stables of Florida, fairly flew off with the tricolor, and Sir Passe, owned by the Ratliff Stable of Baldwin, Mo., and ridden by Robert Egan, followed her closely to the reserve.

In the well filled junior division, Waverly Farm's Son Imp, ridden by Price McIntosh, was the ultimate victor. T. B.

THEY NEED MORE THAN FOOD!

Help build good bone—strong muscles and tendons—vigor and stamina with VIONATE®

AFTER THE FOAL IS WEANED, the young horse must look to his owner or trainer for the well-balanced diet he needs to grow fast with good bones and a healthy, well-formed body. Too often, however, the forages and grains which comprise the typical horse diet are deficient in one or more of the vitamins and minerals needed for normal physical development and essential body functions. Deficiency symptoms may occur, and an otherwise fine animal may fail to live up to its breeding.

VIONATE PROVIDES INEXPENSIVE INSURANCE AGAINST DEFICIENCY DISEASES. Vionate is a product of Squibb research, especially formulated to help provide horses with all the vitamins and minerals known to be essential, and in the proper ratio. A small quantity added to feed once daily economically helps weanlings grow fast with straight, ricket-free bones and strong, supple muscles and tendons. Try Vionate for horses in training—judge for yourself the remarkable improvement in animation, speed and endurance.

Vionate is especially recommended for pregnant and lactating mares to provide ample reserves of bone-building calcium, phosphorus and vitamin D.

VIONATE contains: Vitamins A, D₃, B₁, B₂, B₆, B₁₂ activity concentrate, Folic acid, Niacin, Pantothenic acid, Vitamin E, Choline; Minerals: Salt, Calcium, Phosphorus, Iodine, Iron, Cobalt, Copper, Magnesium, Manganese.

Vionate is available in 10-lb. canisters and larger economy sizes from your favorite drugstore or through your veterinarian. For information, write SQUIBB, Veterinary Department, 745 Fifth Ave., New York 22, N. Y.

VIONATE is a registered Squibb trademark.

Polo In Ireland

Des Murphy

Outside of that small band of enthusiasts who have made a study of the sport's history, few polo players are aware of the important part this small island of ours - in which from ancient times the horse has been raised several stages above the 'best of burden' level - has played in the development of modern polo.

Irish horses, even then renowned for their breeding, were ridden by the Officers of the 10th. Hussars in the first recorded polo game in England, in 1869. Efforts to trace the history of polo in Ireland have proved extremely difficult, although it is generally accepted that a club was founded in County Carlow in 1870, in which the Roark family played a prominent part.

Americans should remember that name, for two sons of the first Roark to play polo in Ireland were later to have the honour of playing for Great Britain against America at Meadow Brook, Long Island. Captain C. 'Pat', considered the greatest player of his era in these islands, was a member of the 1927 and 1930 teams, while Aidan was on the 1939 side. In addition to playing against Laddie Sanford, Pat was one of the famed Hurricane Quartet led by Laddie which was considered one of the greatest line-outs ever to take the field, winning as they did the National Open Championships of 1929 and '30. Pat was also on the Hurricane team which won the Waterbury Memorial Cup in 1925, and the Open in 1926.

In 1874, as far as I have been able to verify, the present All-Ireland Polo Club was founded in Dublin, mainly through the efforts of a Mr. Horace Rochfort, who had been involved with the club at Carlow. Assisting Mr. Rochfort in his efforts was John Watson, the virtual father of the modern style of polo.

It was John who persuaded civilians to enter the ranks of a sport considered almost the exclusive property of the military; he introduced the backhand shot, which was the first step towards co-ordinated team-work, while his insistence on players practicing precision ball-hitting took the sport from its kindergarten stage into the pulsating spectacle it is today.

Action all the way as Pat Martin comes in to clear the boards, with Miss Diana Edge and J. McEnroe in close attendance.

The first important step towards his dream of making the game so universally popular came in 1886, when he led the British team to America for the first of the Westchester Cup Games at Newport, Rhode Island.

The invaders were decisively beaten in both games played 10-4 and 14-2. But international polo had come through its baptism with flying colours, thanks to the perseverance of John Watson.

Since that historic venture, several other Irishmen have tightened a girth and rode out to wield a mallet against America, Captain J. Hardress - Lloyd, Major T. W. "Billy" Kirkwood, Pat Roark, and his brother Aidan. This latter group shared two distinctions, they were all on losing sides and they were all acknowledged by their opponents as being top-class horsemen and polo players.

Finally there was Gerald Balding who, in addition to playing for Great Britain in 1930, '36 and '39, and being on the Greentree winning sides in the National Open of 1935 and '36, was also a member of the U. S. A. team beaten by Argentina in 1936.

Prior to the 1914-18 war polo flourished here in thirteen counties, whose sides competed annually for the County Cup at the Dublin Ground during the week prior to the Dublin Horse Show. The International match with England for the magnificent Patriotic Cup was then the highlight of Show Week.

Today, Irish polo activity is confined to the mother-club in Dublin, a club unique in many ways. Set in the centre of the Phoenix Park, one of the most picturesque parks in Europe, the scene from the club verandah on a summer evening is one of breathtaking beauty, the blue-hued Dublin mountains shimmering in the distance across the tree-tops.

TOM MATLACK

RFD 3, Gaithersburg, Md.

In recent years I have spoken to British, Indian, New Zealand, Australian and Argentinian players following matches here, and the unanimous verdict is that we have the finest playing-turf in the world on the Dublin ground. Being a public park, spectators cannot be charged admission to watch the games, the Club's revenue being derived from members' subscriptions, bar-revenue, and sale of stand seats for the more important matches.

The fact that polo has survived at all in Ireland, and, in fact, for the first time since the 1930's shows signs of improving in quality, can be attributed to the foresight, business aplomb and the inspired leadership of the club secretary since 1929, Major "Billy" Kirkwood.

Here indeed is the Grand Old Man of Polo. Now 74, the Major - as he is affectionately known - still takes his daily gallop in the Phoenix Park during the long winter months, and in 1955, after a long lay-off since 1939, he returned to competitive polo.

Shortly after taking over as Secretary, the Major inaugurated the "Club Pony" scheme, which has contributed immensely to the success of the club. This system, whereby the Committee "lends" ponies to young men who intimate that they are going to take a serious interest in the game - the player then taking over the expense of maintaining the pony, but after a period, following an agreement with the Committee he may sell his mount to buy another - has resulted in several young players with limited means being able to continue in the game.

Twice yearly teams from England are invited over to play a series of games in Dublin, while guest players from many lands call during the season and are readily equipped for a chukkar or two. Gradually the playing standard of the club's "juniors" has improved against this varied opposition. Soon, which in polo terms could mean five or six years, the Committee feel that we will be in a position to renew the Annual International fixture with England. When that day comes, the result of the match will be of little consequence, although history being what it is, we love to beat England at any sport. The important thing will be that Ireland one of the founders of International matches, will have regained its proper status on the polo field.

Maj. "Billy" Kirkwood, Secretary of the All Ireland Polo Club, and at 74, one of the oldest active players in the world. The Major, who learned his polo as a young officer with the Bengal Lancers, played for Great Britain against America in 1924.

One of the most accomplished polo players in Ireland is Miss Diane Edge, here seen at the Dublin Horse Show.

Brandywine Polo

Bill Phillips

Wilmington Polo Club handed Merchantville P.C. their third defeat in eleven starts on Aug. 11, with an upset 8-5 win over the Jerseyites. Wilmington piled up a 3-0 first period lead on the conversion of a No. 1 penalty shot by Col. Howard Fair and a 30 yard lofted off-side forward drive by George (Frolic) Weymouth. The Delaware foursome was never headed by the Jersey riders whose scoring was limited to one marker in each succeeding period. Norm Taylor salvaged scoring honors for Merchantville with 4 tallies.

Wilmington	Merchantville
1. J. Torello	W. Prickett, Jr.
2. G. Weymouth	N. Taylor
3. H. Fair	E. Stewart
4. H. Williams	L. Phillips
Wilmington	3 0 1 1 2 1 8
Merchantville	0 1 1 1 1 1 5

Scoring: Wilm. - Fair 3, Weymouth 3, by penalty 1, Torello. Merchantville - Taylor 4, Phillips 1.

The one point margin that bested Brandywine in two previous encounters with Farmington gave the decision to Brandywine 6-5 in their third meeting on Aug. 14.

The closely contested match was tied four times. In the climactic final period, George (Frolic) Weymouth tallied twice to put Brandywine out in front, 5-4. With 3 1/2 min. remaining, Al Marenholz knotted the count for the Connecticut trio 5-5. Everett King, Jr. tapped the ball out of the following lineup and raced to the end zone to score the winning goal.

Brandywine	Farmington
1. G. Weymouth	F. Butterworth, Jr.
2. E. King, Jr.	F. Butterworth
3. R. Harrington	A. Marenholz

Brandywine	2 0 1 3 6
Farmington	1 1 2 1 5

Scoring: Brandywine - Weymouth 3, King, Jr. 3. Farmington - Butterworth, Jr. 1, Butterworth 1, Marenholz 3.

In the preliminary match Merchantville edged the All-Stars 7-6 on Preston King's tie-breaking 15 yard off-side neck shot. King is a younger brother of Everett, Jr. Norm Taylor paced the winners with 3 tallies. Deryl Calder tabbed the top score with 4 markers.

Long Island Polo

Bill Briordy

Rapping six goals, Archie Young showed the way as Brookville checked the pace-setting Aiken quartet, 8 to 5, in a Long Island Polo League match at the Meadow Brook Club, Jericho, L. I., on Sunday, Aug. 18.

Arthur Kaye paced the losers with two markers, while Johnny Gayer added another tally and the other two came via handicap.

At Bethpage (L. I.) State Park, the Meadow Brook four romped to a 12-4 decision over the Piping Rock side in a Long Island Polo League affair.

In this match, Pedro Silvero was the high man with six tallies. Bark Hickox split the uprights four times for the Meadow Brook mallet-swingers.

The Blind Brook four, receiving two goals by handicap, rapped home fifteen more during the last five periods to rout the Fairfield Hunt Club quartet, 17 to 2, in the final of the Northeastern 12-goal tournament at the Blind Brook Club, Purchase, N. Y.

SADDLE SOAP AND POLO

Young Thomas Tom was a polo player bold Who never missed a ball, so we are told. His aim was so true, he was soon called 'great';

He would never hit the ball too soon or too late.

But then one day - one sad summer's day, He struck at the ball and it simply rolled away.

Three feet it did roll on the field so smooth And his team soon wondered if they might lose.

Each time that young Tom would try for a hit, Right out of the saddle he would seem to slip.

Now the trouble was simple, for sad to tell, Someone had neglected to soap his saddle well.

essential on the track, but a detriment in Combined Training", is almost always the result of a mutton-fisted pilot and should not be used to malign the Thoroughbred! On the contrary, racing temperament intelligently channelled, is the horse's equivalent of the "iron will to win"!

The timely warning in your closing sentence is however most appropriate: The quality of the horseman in the final analysis is a necessary adjunct to a winning combination.

Keeneland Fall Sales

Dear Sir:

The Breeders' Sales Company has adopted a new policy with relation to the conduct of its annual Fall Yearling Sale. The 1957 Fall Sale will be held in conjunction with the Fall Race Meeting at Keeneland Race Course. The dates of the race meeting are October 8 through October 24, with no racing on Mondays.

In an effort to provide patrons with the dual opportunity of enjoying racing and buying yearlings, it is presenting the largest single yearling sale ever held during the Keeneland meeting. The yearling sale will begin on Monday, October 14 with afternoon and evening sessions. Night sales only will be held on October 15, 16, 17 and 18. The sale will resume on Monday afternoon, October 21 and will be concluded with nightly sessions on that day and Tuesday, October 22. A total of 729 yearlings will be catalogued.

Due to the fact that the number of yearlings offered this Summer by the company was decreased considerably for several reasons, the quality of the yearlings this Fall is much higher than in previous years. This Summer it offered 120 less yearlings than in 1956. This Fall it is cataloguing 122 more horses than in 1956. Many of the yearlings being offered this Fall were held out of the Summer Sale for better maturity or because of superficial injuries.

The company wishes to urge its patrons who plan to attend this sale to make their hotel and travel reservations immediately as Lexington will be crowded during the combined racing and sales dates. The company will be delighted to assist you with these reservations upon advance notice.

The annual Fall Breeding Stock Sale will be held October 28, 29 and 30. This sale will include 492 head from the finest breeding farms in the world.

Very Truly Yours,
William S. Evans
General Manager

fenced well, and without any trace of jumping big. At one hurdle, he went in "half blind", but handled the situation like a veteran. His winning margin was four lengths with Helianthemum, *Langton Breeze, Tall Mound, Keltic and Rotal making up the rest of the field in that order named. The winner's record abroad shows a second in the Galway Hurdle, beaten a neck by well considered jumper, two wins over hurdles, and one start on the flat in which he ran unplaced. *Ballybrittas arrived here early in August, and if he holds his form for the remaining two months, a few more visits to the winners circle would seem in order.

After a lapse of almost eighteen months, L. W. Troiano's King Commander came back to the races on Friday. All things considered he ran a remarkably good race, taking the lead early, running with his head down, disdainful at times of those "little things" stretched across the course, but managing to hold on. He appeared leg weary in the last quarter mile but came home on top with a little more than two lengths to spare. Billing Bear was closest to him at the end after getting to Affable at the last fence. Air School was fourth but never in serious competition. The most exciting moment in the race came on the far side the last time when Smithwick on Affable ranged up to challenge King Commander, while Albert Foot on Mancus made it a trio. This lasted briefly after Mancus appeared unable to jump with the top two, and King Commander again opened a daylight lead. King Commander was purchased outright by Larry Troiano a year ago at the horses in training sale here when he and Mickey Walsh dissolved their partnership. Since that time he has been under the care of Gene Weymouth, who together with his sister, Pat, helped to bring the eight-year-old back to the races.

Closing jumping race of the meeting on Saturday resulted in a photo finish with Walter M. Jeffords' Policeman Day getting the nod by the proverbial whisker, at the direct expense of Betty Bosley's Best Gift. Only five accepted the issue, but it was a well matched field, and a contest right down to the wire. Mycroft and Out Of Reach were third and fourth.

Merchants and Citizens Handicap on August 30. Holding second place to wear down, Greek Admiral, Promethean and Chevation in turn, the five-year-old son of War Admiral (from Yankee First, by *Blenheim II) had enough left to stave off Harmonizing's closing charge and win by 1 1/4 lengths.

Promethean held on for third and Argent was fourth.

Admiral Vee put $19,900 into Mr. Seinfeld's pocket and $14.30 to the account of each two-dollar bettor who fancied his chances.

Before going into the 1 3/4 grind Admiral had racked up 3 1957 wins - one of them in the Edgemere Handicap, 2 seconds and 3 thirds. His season's money score is $72,200.

H. A. Jerkens is his trainer. The Estate of S. D. Riddle bred him.

Washington Park

Kerr Stable's Round Table continued his campaign for three-year-old honors by soundly whipping the Kentucky Derby winner, Iron Liege, in the 1 3/16-mile American Derby on August 31. The race was on the turf.

Round Table led almost from the start, won easily with a margin of safety of four lengths. Iron Liege finished 3 1/2 before Ekaba, which bested Martini II by 2 lengths.

The American Derby was worth $100,350 to the Kerr Stable (Mr. and Mrs. Travis M. Kerr) and boosted Round Table's earnings to $497,776. Also, it whetted the fans' appetite for a race including Gallant Man and Round Table. That contest could decide many things.

Bill Shoemaker rides Round Table and has also been doing the saddle work on Gallant Man. He'll have to choose between them.

Willie Motler trains Round Table.

The colt, now three-year-old, was bred by Claiborne Farm. He is by *Princequillo, out of Knight's Daughter, by Sir Cosmo.

Short Takes of Late Stakes

Flight History registered on upset when he took the Clang Handicap at Washington Park on August 26. Melody Mine scored in the Mademoiselle at the same track on the 28th.

Atlantic City's Olympic Handicap went to Tudor Era. That race was on August 31. Three days earlier, Pink Velvet came home first in the Margate Handicap.

How Now was the winner of the Bing Crosby Handicap at Del Mar on August 24. California Thoroughbred Breeders' Association Sales Stakes was taken by Circle Lee (August 26).

Detroit's Governor's Handicap went to Little Reaper.

The Chagrin Valley Turf Handicap was won by Roman Battle. (August 24).

ABOUT STEEPLECHASING

With a race carded every day, and with one filled every day, the steeplechase enthusiasts were well pleased with jumping races at Saratoga. Before the meeting opened, steeplechase secretary and handicapper, Jack Cooper, would have been pleased with four or five a week, but somehow one filled every day. Additionally, with very few exceptions, the infield racing was of top quality, well matched fields and interesting contests.

Certain recommendations made by the Course Committee of the N.S. and H. A. appear likely to be accepted by the Greater New York Association. These envision an improvement to the turf on the main course, and as well, better schooling facilities at Oklahoma.

According to grapevine rumors, a top French trainer plans to send one of his good jumpers over here for the Temple Gwathmey in mid-October.

Oleg T. Dubasoff, who trains for John M. Schiff, Bayard Tuckerman, Jr. and Lazy F. Ranch, took off on Friday for a ten day business visit to France. Cherchez le cheval ??? J. E. C.

MISS NEWBERRY IN GERMANY

The Sankt George magazine of Germany pays a high compliment to Miss Jessica Newberry of Croton-on-Hudson, N. Y., in its August issue, where a picture of Jessica and her Lippizaner, Plutony, appears with the following caption: "An elegant turn-out, the young American, Miss Jessica Newberry, on her lovely 11-year-old white gelding, Plutony. The talented rider came to Aachen to compete, but was handicapped by her illness and injuries to her horses". Jessica came down with Asian flu just before the show, and injuries sidelined her horses. However, the Newberry's plan to go back next year with their horses and a new prospect purchased in Germany this summer. S. B.

QUICK TEMPO

Enroute home from the Santa Fe Horse Show, John North's Quick Tempo was turned over in their trailer. Although he was badly scratched up and wounded in the shoulder, the grey is expected back in action within two months. The Westerner

GENTLEMAN FROM GEORGIA

Dudley Clarke Fort and his good going hunter, Waterfall, were a cheerful pair at the Warrenton Horse Show. Mr. Fort was presented with a ribbon by Nick Saegmuller ostensibly for being a "gallant exhibitor from the South", but mostly for his high spirit of friendliness and good sportsmanship. M.T.

BRITISH POLO

The Cowdray Gold Cup Open Tournament was recently won 6-5 by Windsor Park (Including the Duke of Edinburgh) which beat Baron Elie de Rothschild's Casarejo Team 6-5 at Cirencester. The County Cup was ridden by Media Luna, the Argentine Team, and the Neil Haig Cup by a team from India headed by the Maharajah of Jaipur.

POLO AND EXERCISE PONY

The pony which accompanies Harry Lamontagne's stakes winning three-year-old filly Plotter on her morning rounds is one on which trainer Bill Post used to play polo. He is a Thoroughbred pony bred on the King Ranch in Texas and last played a polo game by Post in the early 1940's. At the present time he is 25 years young.

SARATOGA VISITORS

Among recent Saratoga visitors have been Jockey Club member Carleton Burke of California; John Barry Ryan of New York City and William Evans of the Breeders' Sales Company, Lexington, Ky.; Mr. and Mrs. Allie E. Reuben of Ohio; Charlton Clay of Kentucky.

4-TIME CONSECUTIVE WINNER

Bobby Burke has tucked into his championship record the distinction of riding 4 consecutive winners of the Three-year-old Championship of Virginia, held at the Warrenton Horse Show, with horses made and schooled by him. Winners ridden by Bobby are Star Time (1954), Corpond (1955), Cameda (1956), and his latest champion of 1957, Mrs. Sheldon Smith's Came Across. M. T.

QUARTER HORSE JUMPERS

The manners and ease with which Ginnie Perkins' Thank You negotiated the open courses at the Santa Fe Horse Show, was a real pleasure. This registered quarter horse jumped five feet as easily as three. The Perkins' sisters have made a habit of jumping only Quarter Horses, and their newest one Don't Mention It, which stands 14.2, has the jump many a big horse could have wished for. The Westerner

NATIONAL SPORTING LIBRARY

Mr. Forest Mars of The Plains, Va., has donated the following books to the National Sporting Library, Middleburg, Virginia; Thoroughbred Sires and Dams of 1955, Compiled by The Blood Horse, Horses of Today, by Herbert H. Reese, The American Racing Manual of 1955 and 1956, Compiled by The Daily Racing Form, The Bloodstock Breeders' Review of 1954, Published by the British Bloodstock Agency, Lt., The Irish Horse of 1950, Published by The Bloodstock Breeders' and Horse Owners' Association of Ireland, and the Register of Thoroughbred Stallions of 1954, edited by Turf Newspapers, Ltd.

HURT IN POLO GAME

W. L. Rochester, Jr., of Warrenton, Va., has returned to his home after spending several days in the hospital. Mr. Rochester was badly hurt playing in the Potomac-Warrenton polo game last week. The Warrenton team plays each Wednesday and Friday nights at the Schlusemeyer's Broadview Farm in Warrenton. M.T.

WAR DOE SOLD

The Thoroughbred stallion, War Doe, a number of times Grand Champion Stallion at the Royal Winter Fair and at the Canadian National Exhibition, has been purchased from Dr. J. B. Chassels by Sam Stanley, Maple, Ontario. Mr. Stanley, sporting farmer and breeder of hunters, has presented War Doe to the Canadian Hunter Society. The horse will stand at Mr. Stanley's farm along with the stallion, Patriotism, owned by the Hunter Society. Broadview.

STEELEWORKER

Janet "Dinny" Burns, who passed her test for the Pony Club "A" Certificate this spring, has acquired the bay Thoroughbred gelding, Steeleworker, from Major L. J. McGuinness, King, Ontario. Dinny gets on famously with her new horse which has quite a history. He was purchased in England for the Canadian Olympic Three-Day Event Team through subscriptions, and subscribers later drew for the possession of the horse. Major McGuinness, one of Canada's strongest supporters of the Olympic Team both morally and financially, was the successful man in the draw. Steeleworker trained in England with the Olympic Team but was not used at Stockholm. He came back to Canada with the other Olympic horses and has been shown with some success in Working Hunter classes by Major McGuinness. Dinny made her first public appearance on her new horse at the McGuinness Farm's One-Day Horse Trials and finished fourth in the Junior Section. On the following day she was leading Junior rider at the Annual McGuinness Farm Horse Show, winning both junior Open Jumper events. Broadview.

NEW CLUB IN MICHIGAN

Dr. and Mrs. Harry Brown, long-time Ohio exhibitors, are moving to Flint, Michigan to help establish a riding club there. With all the enthusiasm for showing in Michigan, this should be an interesting place for a new club.

PICNIC HORSE SHOW

The Picnic Horse Show, which for many years has been run by Charles V. Hickox, M.F.H. of the Meadow Brook Hunt, and held on his farm near Old Westbury, Long Island, N. Y., has recently been turned over to the Meadow Brook Pony Club under whose auspices it was held on its traditional day - Labor Day.

WHAT'S IN A NAME

In the case recently tried before Mr. Justice Treleaven in Toronto, Canada, counsel for the Ontario Racing Commission asked that the court compel Miss C. B. Armstrong and Mr. W. F. Morrissey to change the names of six Thoroughbreds, which Miss Armstrong leases from Mr. Morrissey for racing purposes, on the ground that these names have been selected for the express purpose of making disparaging reflections on former race-track operator Fred Orpen. After hearing arguments from both sides the case was adjourned until October 31st. The names in question are Irene's Orphan, Rabbit Mouth, Into the Grape, Stole the Ring, Red Nose, Clown and Hot Ice.

BLINKY

Many a jumper was put to shame at the Hot Springs Horse Show when a postentry named Blinky came into the ring and, without the aid of a horse, negotiated the stiff F. E. L. course with only twelve faults. (For the benefit of those who were unlucky enough to have missed this performance, Blinky is the well-known and equally well-liked groom who has long been seen leaping gaily over any available fences at Virginia horse shows.) T. L. B.

JOINT MASTERS RESIGN

At the annual meeting of Sedgfield Hunt, High Point, N. C., the resignations of Joint-Masters Nathan M. Ayers and Charles L. Kearns - both of whom had served the Hunt for many years - were accepted. Kenneth Schwabenton, Hunt Secretary for the past three years, also requested that he be relieved.

Nathan Ayers, elected MFH in 1946 to succeed Earl N. Phillips, served with T. V. Rochelle until 1950, at which time Charles Kearns was elected as his Joint-Master. Both Ayers and Kearns, members of the Hunt since the early 30's, formerly served as Hunt Secretary, and both are former members of the Executive Committee of the M. F. H. Association. Ken Schwabenton did an outstanding job as Secretary and acted as Field Master while in office.

Elected as new Joint-Masters were W. C. Boren, III, and Dan W. Whittaker and, as Hunt Secretary, Claude S. Sutton, Jr., all being from Greensboro.

The new officers will be assisted by a strong Executive Committee who have been given definite assignments with responsibilities for such matters as paneling, membership, hounds, hunting country, entertainment, Hunter Trials and horse shows. Members of this committee in addition to outgoing and incoming officers are: Stark S. Dillard, Dr. A. T. Smith, Claude S. Sutton, Sr., Muir Lyon, Jack Rochelle and Welch Harriss.

Dan W. Whittaker has been a faithful hunting member for many years and owns a beautiful farm in the Hunt's north country. He has made friends with his neighbors, and a meet at his place almost always means a good day. Bill Boren, Jr., M.F.H. and his son, Bud, have been regulars for about five years, and both have been assets. Bill has his eye on an even more northerly country above the airport that could mean a lot to our future. He, along with several of his Greensboro friends, own farms there, where the rolling country lacks many distractions we now have in our original territory.

HUMPHREY HEADS STEEL FIRM

George M. Humphrey, new owner of Whileaway Farm, Lexington, Ky., and recently resigned Secretary of the Treasury, has been named Board Chairman of the National Steel Corp., a firm which he helped found in 1929. F.T.P.

DON'T CONFUSE THE HORSES

The following paragraphs by Joe Agrella, appeared in a recent issue of "The Blood-Horse": "You'd be surprised how many race horses are confused," said Leslie Joffrion, 37-year-old trainer from Shreveport, La. He meant that many horses have too many trainers. Joffrion has no such problem. He trains for P. A. B. Widener and the 2 men haven't seen each other for several months. "He's at his ranch in Montana," Joffrion said, "I've talked to him on the phone maybe 5 times since Florida - any time something comes up that he should know about, like dropping a horse in a claiming race. But otherwise he just leaves everything to me. That doesn't confuse the horses."
